- 22 oz. boneless, skinless chicken breast, diced into large pieces
- 750 g spaghetti squash, halved, seeded, roasted and scraped (see below)
- 4 c. onions, diced
- 2 c. tomato puree
- 6 oz. tomato paste
- 10 oz. light coconut milk
- 1 tsp. olive oil
- 3 tbsp. fresh ginger, peeled and minced
- 8 cloves garlic, minced
- Kosher salt, to taste
- Black Pepper, to taste
- Masala spice mixture (see below)
- 2 c. fresh cilantro, roughly chopped

Directions

1. Heat a cast iron skillet over medium-high heat and add the olive oil and 2 tbsp. of masala mixture. Stir to combine the spices and oil and toast the spices for about 30 seconds.
2. Add the garlic and ginger, and stir to incorporate. Cook for 1 minute longer.
3. Season the chicken with salt and pepper and place it, seasoned side down into the pan, then season the top side with salt and pepper and stir to incorporate into the spice mixture. Push the chicken to one side of the pan and add the onions to the other half. Cook for 2 minutes, then stir onions into chicken and cook for another 2 minutes.
4. Add the tomato paste and stir, then add the coconut milk and tomato puree. Stir to combine and cook until chicken is done, about 2-3 minutes longer. Then cut the heat.
5. Portion out 150 g of spaghetti squash into six containers.
6. When the chicken is done, season the sauce with kosher salt and the masala mixture.
